The Main House

In the heart of Moscow's prestigious and exclusive residential area stands a villa that represents the pinnacle of classic elegance and craftsmanship.

This extraordinary project was born from the refined vision of the client, who envisioned a timeless residence in which architecture, interior design and landscape would dialogue in perfect harmony.

Giving shape to this idea was architect Alexander Brizhevaty, whose concept sensitively and rigorously reinterpreted the elements of classical architecture, with references to the Palladian style and the great tradition of European aristocratic villas, and CHIODELLI ARTE turned this vision into reality, taking care of every phase of the realization, from the custom-made furniture to the selection of materials, to the definition of every decorative detail.

The entire property covers an area of 5,500 m², designed to offer an exclusive and uncompromising living dimension.

The client expressed a desire to create a classically styled architectural and landscaping complex that would include, in addition to the main house, a series of complementary buildings and structures: a guest house, a gazebo, a pool building, and a functional reconsideration of the large terraces and balconies of the main villa.

Implementing this unique project was CHIODELLI ARTE, Italian excellence in manufacturing and design, which was able to transform dreams and ideas into a tangible reality, creating spaces of extraordinary beauty and refinement. A timeless work.

This residence is the perfect synthesis of the client's sophisticated taste, Alexander Brizhevaty's architectural concept, and CHIODELLI ARTE's extraordinary execution.

More than just a mansion, this villa is a masterpiece of architecture, interior design and craftsmanship, a place where beauty and elegance reach their highest expression.

Through this photo book, we invite you to discover a unique work, a symbol of understated luxury, timeless refinement and absolute perfection.

This room is a masterpiece of elegance and refinement in the classical style. It is a circular hall, reserved for the bedrooms, and features a domed ceiling richly decorated with gilded geometric patterns and ornamental stucco in neoclassical motifs with figurines.

Lighting is made sumptuous by a large crystal chandelier that hangs from the center of the dome, creating a bright and regal atmosphere. The walls are embellished with paneling with gilded details, mirrors and wall sconces.

In the center of the room is a wrought-iron balustrade with ornamental decorations, bordering a monumental staircase. The wooden floor with inlays recalls the luxury of ancient aristocratic palaces.

The paintings in the dome represent a majestic and refined work of art inspired by Hellenic classicism. The scenes depict sculptural figures in bas-relief, mythological allegories or representations of gods and muses, set in a harmonious and symmetrical context.

The golden geometric pattern decorating the ceiling creates a perspective effect that accentuates the depth of the space, while the contrast between white and gold emphasizes the grandeur of the whole.

The walls are interspersed with plaster and hand-painted lacquered wood elements, and the doors are embellished with precious carvings and sculptures.

The living room is a perfect example of classic luxury, with a color palette dominated by ivory, gold, and blue, and a mix of fine materials such as leather, marble, and carved wood.

The living room is dominated by a large light leather corner sofa. Several gilded console tables with baroque-style carved legs are placed along the walls and under the TV.

In the background is a large bookcase with illuminated shelves, which houses a collection of decorative objects, of historical or artistic value.

Dining in the classical style recalls the Baroque and neoclassical styles, the wooden paneling are decorated with neoclassical figures and gold leaf, and the chairs represent real sculptures richly carved and torch-lit reminiscent of the architectural motifs of the mansion itself.

The entrance is dominated by a double-leaf door with ivory panels and gold details, which feature geometric and floral decorations.

The second prominent item is a cabinet with a light wood frame and rhombus-patterned inlaid details, with gold and black decorative inserts and precious mother-of-pearl.

The base is supported by an extremely worked console, with a Baroque design characterized by golden curls and leaf motifs, emphasizing the majesty of the whole.

The spacious hall leads to the most private areas of the house, the luxury one-bedroom suite. Compared to the previous rooms, the finishes here are more subdued, with a predominance of silver and beige tones, while still maintaining an exclusive and refined character.

The master bathroom is an exclusive and refined room, embellished by the use of fine materials and luxurious details, such as the washbasin unit covered in Rolex blue marble and the walls in Calacatta marble.

The entrance to the bathroom features a luxurious door entirely covered in silver leaf, with engraved decorative details that recall the elegant style of the rest of the house.

The son's room is a true apartment within the house, providing privacy, comfort and a refined aesthetic.

The design combines fine materials and understated elegance, with a clear distinction between functional spaces: sleeping area for relaxation, private bathroom, living area for leisure, and study area for work and creativity.

A perfect balance between luxury and practicality.

Living Area and Study

The space is designed to offer independence and functionality, with a cozy living area and a well-equipped study area.

The living area includes a stylish sofa and a bookcase with space for books, decorative objects and technological devices.

Materials remain consistent with the rest of the residence: fine woods, light lacquers, and gilded details.

Grandma's apartment is designed as an elegant and refined space, featuring richly carved furniture, wardrobes, console tables, and a bathroom with precious green onyx.

This study is distinguished from the rest of the house by the use of a particularly fine wood: "cartellotto" Ferrarese briarwood. The carved coffered ceiling and custom-made bookcases enrich the space.

Latin quotations engraved in gold lettering in the woodwork reinforce the exclusive atmosphere of the study, making it not only a place to work or read, but also a symbol of refinement and wisdom.

"OMNIA MUTANTUR," which means 'everything changes,' adds a philosophical and reflective touch to this already meaningful studio.
This phrase introduces the concept of transformation and impermanence, creating a fascinating contrast between the stability of wood and the flow of time.

This quote could be a reference to the changing nature of knowledge, culture, and life itself, emphasizing that despite the apparent static nature of classical furniture, knowledge and ideas are constantly evolving.

The set of Latin inscriptions ("Verba Volant, Scripta Manent," "Ab Exterioribus ad Interiora," "Omnia Mutantur") transforms the study into a place of introspection and wisdom, where luxury blends with depth of thought.

Dependence

Inspired by Andrea Palladio's famous Villa Rotonda, the guest house is designed to offer a high level of hospitality with stucco and frescoes.

This extraordinary ceiling decoration is a typical example of "trompe-l'oeil" in the Baroque style, creating a perspective illusion of a space open to the sky.

The scene depicts a celestial vision with an explosion of clouds, divine and allegorical figures immersed in a dynamic and theatrical composition.

The carved furniture finished with gold leaf fits perfectly into this context of luxury and refinement, echoing the colors of the walls and stucco work and creating a chromatic harmony that enhances the opulence of the room.

This light oak wine cellar is not just a storage space, but a true design element that enhances the elegance and prestige of the room, making it perfect for private tastings in a luxurious setting.

The wine area is equipped with temperature and humidity regulation systems to ensure perfect wine storage. Paintings inspired by conviviality scenes from Flemish masterpieces such as those of Pieter Bruegel the Elder add cultural and artistic reference, enriching the visual narrative of the room.

Home theater: it is a perfect balance of technology and refined interior design. The use of velvet, gilded finishes and soft lighting is reminiscent of the great historic theaters, while the integration of modern technology ensures professional-level audiovisual performance.

The home theater thus becomes a luxury environment dedicated to relaxation and exclusive entertainment, the gold leaf door stands out and recalls the royalty of the villa.
